

Steps Toward Ending Sexual Exploitation

We understand that the subject of sexual exploitation is challenging, but we encourage you to engage in the difficult conversation with us. Throughout the creation of this experience, the collaborators have gone on a journey of learning and becoming better allies. We want this conversation to extend beyond this performance and have reach into our community and the world.

If today's stories moved you, please consider Venmo-ing me by midnight tonight (Wise-WORLDSWITHOUTEXPLOITATION) so that we can make a collective contribution to a world where all people are treated with dignity, humanity, and respect.

Here are some resources for learning and actions:

World Without Exploitation: <https://www.worldwithoutexploitation.org>

The H.O.P.E. Project: <http://www.hopeprojectusa.org>

Freedom From Exploitation: <https://freedomfromexploitation.vpweb.com>

Organization of Prostitution Survivors: <https://seattleops.org>

Sowers Education Group: <https://sowerseducationgroup.com>

Dreamcatcher Foundation: <https://thedreamcatcherfoundation.org>

Rebecca Bender Initiative: <https://rebecca-bender-nxpx.squarespace.com>

Human Trafficking Survivor Empowerment Program:
<http://mentarius.org>

With appreciation and respect,

Team OBJECTS IN THE MIRROR ARE CLOSER THAN THEY APPEAR or THE BIKINI ATOLL LOUNGE